

- ✓ Valuing Students
- ✓ Empowering Parents
- ✓ Enlightening Communities

Teaching “Consent,” is wrong?

Proponents of Comprehensive Sexuality Education claim teaching sexual consent negotiation reduces sexual assault. When teaching minors to engage in risky behavior of any kind, the answer to the question is, “it depends on the child (age appropriateness), and the context of the instruction.

Age appropriateness, and family values are always a consideration and because no two people are the same, a one-size-fits-all approach is not acceptable. The parent should decide.

Parents’ Rights In Education is concerned about the consequences when consent is taught within the CSE premise that all sexual activity between any two or more consenting people is good when condoms and contraceptives are used.

Teaching consent undermines any semblance of an abstinence message by instructing students how to coax another person to engage in sexual activity with them. In this context, Abstinence, reserving sexual relationships for couples committed to love and commitment, is relegated to the back seat.

The Planned Parenthood Approach

Planned Parenthood’s video (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qNN3nAevQKY&t=3s>) promoting “consent” states that sex is simply about “connection and pleasure.” The decision only requires consent.

PP’s videos teach how to negotiate for more sex, by saying things to each other such as, “May I take off your clothes?,” “Show me where you want me to touch you” or, “Let’s try this sexual activity I heard about.”

The message “it’s never okay to force others to have sex,” is contradicted with phony respect tactics such as coaxing, seduction, or manipulation of others to get what you want. Studies and surveys show rape and sexual assault are often fueled by the use of pornography. PP advises teen girls to watch porn with their boyfriends to learn about the types of sex they want. They teach BDSM is all right and fun as long as both parties consent.

Grade school age children are now exposed to pornography, resulting in child-on-child sexual abuse, like the Oregon 12-year-old sodomized by his classmate in the restroom during class time, excused by authorities because it was consensual. <https://news.childrensmercy.org/kshb-41-children-abusing-children-childrens-mercy-sees-dangerous-trend-involving-children-and-pornography/> Kansas City, December 05, 2018 KSHB 41: Children abusing children, Children's Mercy sees' dangerous trend involving children and pornography.

It's obvious Planned Parenthood profits when teens have sex, by providing birth control, abortions, STD tests and treatments.

Grooming Minors for Pedophiles and Sex Traffickers

Teaching sexual consent to a sexual predator (other minors) is like teaching a thief it is wrong to grab a person's wallet or purse, but acceptable to trick someone out of their money. It fails to address reasons why people commit sexual assault, and helps predators do it in such a way they are free from prosecution. Bottom line, when consent is the only barrier, it becomes more difficult to prosecute sexual predators cleverly following manipulative "consent rules," claiming consent-to-sex was mutual. The most skilled and prolific perpetrators groom children, manipulating them into a sexual relationship they think is their idea, thus "consenting".

Sexual victims are targeted for the ease with which they can be manipulated. Victims are increasingly younger than predators, chosen because they lack self confidence, or are easily swayed, aiming to please. Because CSE has a morally neutral context, promoting anything goes if there is consent, victims cannot discern they consenting to sexual exploitation.